Severe Weather Season

Severe weather season is drawing closer as winter is coming to an end, please take precaution during this season. The warmer weather is wonderful but it often comes with storms and tornadoes. Be smart and always play it on the safe side. The City is not responsible for setting of alarms, this is controlled from a county level. Storm shelters in Douglass are located at the High School (Sports Complex Entrance), masks are required and The Church of Christ will be open for a storm shelter as well, pets are welcome at this location.

Douglass Public Library is excited to announce we will be having SOME in person programming for summer reading! Sign-ups will be required and there will be safety protocols in place. For people who wish to participate remotely, that option will also be available. Our theme this summer is Tails and Tales. We are excited to do all things animals! We will have something for everyone, 0-100, so be sure to sign up May 17th-May 24th. We will have more information coming soon on our Facebook page and students who attend Seal Elementary will be given a note to take home with more details.

.. Welcome Sunshine.....

The sun is starting to shine, and as it starts getting nice out people will be out walking, playing, bike riding. Please remember to watch for people of all ages while driving through town. Please also remember that there is a leash law in town. Keeping your dogs contained in a fenced in area or on a leash will help prevent dogs running after people while playing and walking.

Just a reminder!

As our second annual easter egg hide gets closer, we would like to make sure that the houses are easy to find. This is just a friendly reminder to make sure that house numbers are posted for easier navigation. Below is the ordinance that states that all buildings that are inhabited or used as a business should be numbered and should be easily read from the street line. This is in reference to Ordinance 598 Sec. 1; Code 2007.

The background is dark with several Easter eggs and a flower. In the top left is a speckled egg. In the top right is a white flower with dark centers. In the bottom left are several small, light-colored eggs. In the bottom center is a large, plain white egg. In the bottom right is a dark egg with white speckles.
